Glenn Rests, Answers Questions Describes Flight, Awaits JFK

GRAND TURK ISLAND, Bahamas (AP)—Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., spending two days on this remote island telling colleagues of his experiences and undergoing all manner of physical examinations, took time out Wednesday for some real relaxation. He went for an afternoon swim in the blue Atlantic.

News In Brief Khrush Leads In Soviet Praises

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev led Soviet communists and scientists Wednesday in praising the first U.S. manned orbital space flight. Khrushchev told President Kennedy the earth did not seem to be so large any more, and suggested the two nations pool their efforts to explore outer space.

President Kennedy called the proposal most encouraging. "I am happy to give your courage and skill its due," said Maj. Gherman S. Titov, who orbited the earth 17 times last August, in a message to his fellow astronaut, Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. Maj. Yuri A. Gagarin, the first Soviet cosmonaut who flew around the earth once last April, in congratulations to Glenn said he welcomed "the friendly competition in the research of the secrets of the cosmos."

Scott Will Stay In Gov. Race PITTSBURGH (AP)—Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said Wednesday the door to a possible compromise candidate for the Republican nomination for governor has been closed by Judge Robert W. Woodside of the State Superior Court.

Leaders Silent On Steel Talks PITTSBURGH (AP)—Steel contract negotiators concluded their sixth day of formal, high-level bargaining Wednesday and declined to give even an inkling of what progress has been made.

In their usual joint statement at the end of the day's conference, President David J. McDonald of the United Steelworkers Union and R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator, said the talks are being devoted to the overall economic settlement and "local problems" of the 11 major steel producers directly involved in bargaining.

They added, "generally speaking, all of the representatives of both the union and companies . . . are demonstrating sincere and determined goodwill in efforts to solve the problems involved."

Battle Looms On Postal Rates

WASHINGTON (AP)—A first-class battle over third-class mail is building up as Congress considers an increase in postal rates. Third-class mail is defined by the post office as that which is not sealed, handwritten, typewritten, or more than 16 ounces in weight.

Urban Affairs Plan Defeated In House

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's plan to create a new department of urban affairs and put a Negro in the Cabinet as its head was killed in the House by a massive 264-150 margin Wednesday.

The rebuff, which some Democrats hope to make a hot campaign issue this fall, was expected. The 114-vote margin of rejection for the reorganization plan made certain there will be no urban affairs chair at the Cabinet table this year.

Stroud Union Board Acts On Substitutes

TWO teachers were added to the substitute list, permission for a local club to use the auditorium and permissions to advertise for general supply bids were the highlights of the Stroud Union School Board Meeting last night.

Progress On Schools In other business, Superintendent Earl Groner reported the building progress at Morey and Hamilton Township Schools was ahead of schedule.

He also reported that he had received a $1,500 check from Robert Kintner. This is a contribution to the Lillian S. Kintner Memorial Scholarship which is awarded each year to a member of the graduating class.

Good Morning! An average man is one who isn't so good as his wife thinks he is before she marries him, and not so bad as she thinks he is afterward.

back from his swim he encountered Alan B. Shepard, America's first astronaut, who had just flown in from Cape Canaveral. The two met with warm hand-claps and an exchange of their famous grins. They spoke seriously for a moment and then entered the hospital where Glenn is undergoing his tests.

Earlier Wednesday Glenn said he felt no discomfort from being weightless in space. Special Tests Special tests of his balance also have not detected any difficulty from weightlessness, a strange factor in space travel. But Glenn's experience still doesn't mean humans could travel as far as the moon without possible trouble from prolonged lack of gravity.

Many Observations He also spotted El Centro, Calif., and told space agency officials that now he can understand Yuri Gagarin's report of seeing plowed fields. He saw the Mississippi Delta from a distance of 700 miles.

Luminous Particles The "fireflies" were luminous particles of something streaming past his spaceship at each sunrise. Glenn was facing away from the rising sun, and described them as space fireflies which, when they were close to his window, more resembled snowflakes.

Horizon For Control With the aid of a full moon, Glenn could see the horizon at night, and use it as a reference to control the attitude or heading of his ship.

As his ship came home, Glenn saw a great band of orange and blue light well behind his window. Dr. Voas said this apparently was caused by heated air and possibly material melting off his heat shield. The flaming air converged behind the spaceship.

'Smile' Emphasized At Centers

"A SMILE Is To Keep" was the slogan presented during the recent National Children's Dental Health Week.

Children at the Barrett and Pocono Elementary Centers of the Pocono Mountain Joint Schools heard speaker Capt. David E. Layman speak on the subject of dental care. Captain Layman is attached to the Tobyhanna Signal Depot.

He emphasized three main points to the members of the fifth and sixth grades of both schools. Toothbrushing is to clean the teeth and gums and remove bits of food caught between the teeth and around the gums. Brushing promptly after meals prevents the formation of bacteria from growing on food and sugars present which can form acids. He recommended that the teeth be brushed in the direction of growth: down on the uppers and up on the lower teeth.

Working with prompt brushing is a balanced diet. Reduction in sugar intake means a reduction in acid forming sugar. Snacks recommended were carrots, celery and apples which because of the crispness help keep teeth surfaces clean.

Finally, Captain Layman gave an outline of good dental check-ups. From the time a child has the first set of teeth, they should visit their dentist every six months or more often as may be necessary. Careful watch over forming teeth can prevent cavity formation and prevent painful and expensive tooth repair, he emphasized.

The children were again reminded that "A smile is to keep."

At the first of two February meetings of the grange was treated to a combination Valentine's Day and Lincoln's Day program presented by Bernice Dolan.

The first floor of the hall has undergone its Spring house-cleaning, with Lewis Osborn, Myron Moore, Irvin Doyle and Francis Curtis, Jr., conducting the painting operations. The new steps to be installed upstairs is not complete as yet.

The grange will meet on February 24 at the hall with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Locklin as the serving committee.

Brownie Troop 252 Observes

NEWFOUNDLAND — International Friendship month was observed by the brownies of Troop 252 at Southern Wayne Joint School this week, with a campfire "lighted" on the stage as the little girls sat in the dark and thought "Thinking Day" thoughts.

Cindy Haldaman, Carol Butler, Carol Weiland, Jane Young, Debbie Banks, Maria Stevens and Linda Kritschgauer received their world pins. Ann Marro, who is at home with the chickenpox, was not able to receive hers at the meeting.

Molly Burke was awarded her membership star pin. The girls listed the counties in the world association of scouting, and sang "Taps" Indian style.

Mrs. Hugh Colan, cookie chairman, discussed the sale with the girls. Cookies will be sold until Friday of this week.

Gift Of The Heart

Diseases of the heart and blood vessels account for more than 54 per cent of all deaths, and afflict more than 10,000,000 living Americans. And they are not just a problem of old age. Statistics show that they are the leading killers during our most productive years, 45 to 65. In these reasons there can be little doubt as to which health cause deserves priority on your giving-for-health list. It is, of course, the Heart Fund.

The sheer magnitude of the heart problem is not only consideration. Of great significance is the fact that your Heart Association has the unqualified support of the nation's leading cardiologists and medical scientists; also, "Heart" devotes a greater proportion of its income to research than any other leading health appeal. Furthermore, your Heart Fund dollars support essential programs of education and community service.

Dozens of heart-saving advances have been speeded by four gifts since the first Heart Fund campaign in 1949. To mention only a few of them: Operations to correct defects of the heart and its great vessels, the prevention of rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease, drugs to reduce high blood pressure, drugs to safeguard against repeat heart attacks, and better methods of treating heart attack, heart failure, and stroke.

Progress to date amply justifies the expectation that new dramatic gains in treatment and prevention are in the offing, and that these will come in time to be of benefit to many now-living victims of heart disease. We agree with the many physicians and prominent laymen who say that the Heart Fund is not a charity, but rather a sound and practical investment. When a Heart Fund volunteer calls at your home on Heart Sunday (this weekend), think of your own heart and the hearts of those you love. And remember this: "More will live—the more you give."

Are We In—Or Out?

The Pennsylvania Story

This Week Should Tell The Tale

By Mason Denison

Harrisburg—Today and tomorrow should tell the tale as to whether Pennsylvania this spring will have a one-star or two-star extravaganza on its entertainment agenda.

Or, as some of the more ebullient around Capitol Hill would be prone to classify it: a one or two-horse opera!

A one-star show has already been pretty well assured in the Keystone State's Republican camp by virtue of the gubernatorial tiff between U.S. Senator Hugh Scott in the one corner and Superior Judge Robert E. Woodside in the other.

What remains to be determined is whether Pennsylvania's donkey riders are destined to engage in the same luxury of a primary fight for the governorship nod—an item that should be determined between today's scheduled meeting of party bigwigs and tomorrow's gathering of the Democratic policy committee.

The fact that former Philadelphia Mayor Richardson Dilworth already has announced his gubernatorial intentions has done little to dissuade other members of the Democratic hierarchy from opposing him in favor of their own candidates.

Thus whether Pennsylvania Democrats will endorse a slate—and who—is expected to be determined before the moon rises tomorrow, and whether there is to a primary contest, productive of a two-star extravaganza for Keystone Staters this spring.

Should such a "two-star" show develop this year and produce bitter primary fights in both camps, the event unquestionably would be a whirling dervish of major—and most unusual—proportions. In fact Pennsylvanians would be treated to a spectacle the likes of which have not been produced in contemporary times.

This is the case because never before have the two major parties (comprising some five million registered Pennsylvanians) been in such "equal power" positions for both to warrant spirited contest for the gubernatorial nod.

In the first place, insofar as the Democratic gubernatorial nod has been concerned—until the 1968 Lawrence campaign, that is—what happened in that camp amounted to little more than a piffle insofar as anyone was generally concerned.

In those days it didn't matter much what kind of a scrap they put up, the candidates couldn't—and didn't—win anyway, with the result that what went on in the political boneyard was paid scant attention.

On the other hand, Republicans who then were well entrenched, were so dominated by the GOP Old Guard power wing that virtually no one paid any attention to the "upstarts" who dared venture a nubbins of opposition in the form of an anti-organization candidate.

The whole morose picture for campaign year 1962 has undergone a decided change—a change that this year finds gubernatorial stalking horses chomping at the bit in both camps, all confident of a win in November.

The significant fact is that this confidence note is not an over-estimation of the situation. In Pennsylvania this year the chances of emerging the victor generally are viewed as just about even for either the Democratic or Republican candidate.

The "piffle" factor is not present in either case in this election year 1962. A one-star primary show already has been set up in GOPland on the gubernatorial contest front.

The question now is whether it will develop into a full fledged two-star extravaganza with a comparable show in the land of the donkey riders.

The course should largely be determined by moonrise-time tomorrow night after Democratic chieftains wind up their two days of heavy pow-wow-ing.

Washington—President Kennedy is determined one way or another to name his housing chief, Robert Weaver, to a Cabinet post this year.

If Congress refuses to set up a new Cabinet post for Weaver by rejecting the proposed Urban Affairs Department, the President plans to pick Weaver as the successor to Health, Education & Welfare Secretary Ribicoff.

Secretary Ribicoff will leave

The Allen-Scott Report

JFK Plans HEW Post For Weaver

his important HEW cabinet post this spring to seek the Democratic nomination for the Senate seat now held by GOP Senator Prescott Bush, Conn.

Ribicoff's resignation, which is expected to touch off a number of changes within the Administration, is already on the President's desk. It will be announced either in March or April.

The President made known his keen determination to break precedent and name Weaver as the first Negro cabinet member during a recent legislative strategy meeting with his congressional leaders.

He told the legislators he would like to see Weaver become the first head of the proposed Urban Affairs Department. However, if Congress balks at that, the President said he would name the housing chief as Ribicoff's Cabinet replacement, stating:

"Weaver is fully qualified to hold either of those Cabinet positions. I want him in the Cabinet."

The latest survey of House members on the President's Urban Affairs reorganization plan clearly indicates that if Weaver is to get a seat in the Cabinet it will have to be the HEW post.

It shows that the President's plan needs 43 additional votes to win approval in the House. A defeat in either the House or Senate will kill the proposal for this year.

Note: Mayor Richard Lee, of New Haven, Conn., is the odds-on-favorite to replace Weaver as head of the Housing & Home Finance Agency when he gives his new Cabinet position.

Back To Work—U-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers was another crack at the Communists.

He is planning to ask the Air Force to reinstate the commission (Major) that he gave up in May 1966 to fly the plane that made spy history—and helped shatter a summit meeting.

And the chances are good that the Central Intelligence Agency's most publicized spy will get his wish.

According to a high Defense Department official, the Air Force is expected to approve Powers' request after studying all the de-briefing reports on his ill-fated U-2 flight over the Soviet Union in 1960.

These still-secret reports reveal that Powers obtained more information on Soviet missile and nuclear installations through his overflights than any other CIA operator.

Also, the de-briefing shows that Powers gave no significant military information that the Soviets could not have obtained from other sources.

Powers was captured near Sverdlovsk, Russia, on May 1, 1960 after he parachuted from his crippled reconnaissance plane. The high-flying jet was disabled by an air-wave shock that was believed caused by the force of an exploding warhead of a Soviet ground-to-air missile.

Powers was subsequently convicted of espionage by the military division of the Supreme Court of the Soviet Union and sentenced to 30 years confinement. He was returned to the U.S. in exchange for Colonel Rudolf Abel, a Soviet spy.

Note: In addition to being Russia's top spy in the U.S. and Europe before his arrest, Colonel Abel also is a nuclear physicist and engineer.

Senate TV Mystery—Senator Margaret Chase Smith, R., Maine, is threatening to take the Senate floor and denounce the lax security protection of the Capitol police if the mystery of her missing TV set isn't cleared up soon. After a week of investigation, more than a dozen Capitol police have been unable to dig up a clue as to who took the expensive set.

Senator J. William Fulbright, D., Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, is staying out of the limelight. Acting on the advice of his campaign advisers, Fulbright is limiting his statements on foreign policy until after the Arkansas primary in May. Also, he has asked Senator John Sparkman, D., Ala., to act as chairman for many of the controversial committee hearings.

The governments plan to let larger packages go through the 'mail' and to charge higher rates for delivering packages is tied up by a legal knot. The Postmaster General must first prove to the Interstate Commerce Commission that he has the right to suggest changes in limits now fixed on package size and weight.

Inside You And Yours

Should You Season Sickness?

By Burton H. Fern, M.D.

Dear Doctor: Soak a heaping teaspoonful of plum bark in a cup of boiling water for 20 minutes to cure asthma. Drinking one to three cups daily stopped my "incurable" case.

Slippery elm tea cured my husband's prostate trouble.

Raudixin (R) failed, but mistletoe tea—the only remedy recommended by the U.S. Government—cured my high blood pressure.

Mrs. I. F.

Dear Mrs. F.: Some herbs help; others merely exercise your taste buds. Doctors are skeptical because they continually hear wild claims for proven useless herbs.

They still prescribe those herbs which usually work. Raudixin (R) is merely the root of a plant that grows in India. Way back, an herb revolutionized medicine.

20 Herbs

An English doctor found an old woman helping incurable heart trouble with tea brewed from 20 different herbs. He could find only two active ingredients in the concoction—herbs that contained digitalis, which puts new strength into failing heart beats.

But boiling weakened the active ingredients and so he began grinding the leaves into powder.

Today, you can buy digitalis—powered whole leaf—in almost any drug store if you have a prescription.

Perhaps your 10-herb recipe for catarrh and head-ache contains only one active ingredient. What kind of prostate trouble does slippery elm cure? Infection? Swelling? Cancer?

Who Recommends It? Which part of the U.S. Government recommends only mistletoe for high blood pressure? Certainly not doctors at the National Institute of Health. They know that blood pressure plummets when a clogged kidney artery is reopened.

Mistletoe can make you feel younger—if you're caught under some around Christmas time!

Power Of Faith Tension can trigger asthma and high blood pressure and magnify almost any ailment, tension fades. Even phony pills but with faith—in your herbs—work if you believe in them.

You'd best take wild claims with a grain of salt before peppering yourself with herbs!

Washington's Enemies

General Washington's foes were not confined to Redcoats. It is difficult to imagine that a man who achieved an exalted position in history was the target of venomous opposition from Americans. Washington's portraits were defaced; he was denounced at mass meetings and there was one assassination attempt. One paper even forged letters in an effort to embarrass him. It is shocking to learn that the anti-Washington Mob opened his private letters. The 18th Century version of wire-tapping.

Washington wrote to Hamilton: "About the middle of last week I wrote to you and that it might escape the eye of the inquisitive (for some of my letters have lately been pried into) I took the liberty of putting it under cover to Mr. Jay."

The fraudulent letters attributed to Washington were published in New York. They attempted to create the impression that he was a traitor. The publishers said the letters had been seized with the capture of Washington's servant. In the first place his servant was never taken prisoner. Secondly, he later proved the letters were forgeries. That didn't stop the libelers, however. They refused to accept the truth or apologize to Washington.

He was philosophic about criticism: "Infallibility not being the attribute of man, we ought to be cautious in censoring the opinions and conduct of one another"

The bitter opposition extended to Mrs. Washington. During the war a group of Philadelphia patriots planned to arrange a ball in her honor. The anti-Revolutionary elements in the city were powerful enough to stop the affair by threatening to destroy the building where the ball was to be held. It is interesting to note that initially—less than forty percent of the people supported the Revolution.

The scurrilous campaign reached ludicrous extremes. One scandalous falsehood gained extensive circulation: That Alexander Hamilton was Washington's illegitimate son. The whisperers contended that when Washington journeyed to the West Indies in 1751, he had an affair with a lovely French lady named Rachel Levine. . . . It is true that Hamilton's mother was Rachel Levine and he was her illegitimate son. G. W., however, was not his father. Hamilton was born in 1757, several years after Washington left the West Indies.

As a young man Washington decided to enter a local political contest in Virginia. He was vilified as a liar and denounced as being corrupt. The smears had their effect. Washington was soundly defeated. He received only 40 votes. In recalling the mud tossed at our 1st President, one historian inquired: "Of what infamy was Washington not falsely accused during his lifetime?"

The hardest blows Washington absorbed were vicious attacks from friends. Sadness has many forms, but ingratitude causes the deepest anguish. Typical of the abuse aimed at him was a letter written by an ex-friend. It concluded with the following: "As to you, sir, treacherous in private friendship and a hypocrite in public life—the world will be puzzled to decide whether you are a traitor or an imposter—whether you have abandoned good principles or whether you ever had any."

Opinions Of Other Editors

Striking A Key Note

"Our industry in the year 2000 will be very largely concerned with products now unknown to us, which you and your generation will help to develop . . .

"Some of you will spend your mature years working in fields which cannot now be listed in any college catalogue because they have not yet been invented."

With words like these, Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, tries to entice countless young Americans toward the frontiers of science.

This country's still notable shortage of scientists and engineers recently drew fresh comment from President Kennedy. It is constantly remarked by many public figures.

Seaborg's appeal on this score, however, seems unusually thoughtful, if his talk at the Science Youth Day dinner of the Thomas Alva Edison Foundation be a fair example.

He appears especially eager to knock down a prevalent notion that only mental wizards dare enter these important fields. Says Seaborg:

"The great bulk of scientific discoveries were made by men of better than average intelligence who were by no means in the 'genius' category."

Below the superintelligence level, such diverse qualities as manual dexterity, freshness of viewpoint, mastery of experimental techniques or possession of sharp insights drawn from past experience may make decisive contributions to science.

In fact, Seaborg says flatly that geniuses alone cannot advance science effectively. So many varied tasks need doing in basis research, industry, agriculture, medicine and other fields that "help from people of many levels of ability" is a necessity.

For much of this work, aspiring young Americans need not plow through what they may fear is a forbidding curriculum. A good high school grounding in math and English gets them off winging, after which they could do with a foundation of basic science courses and reasonable mastery of German, French and, increasingly, Russian.

Seaborg does not pretend that work at any level in science and engineering is child's play, to be handled with fingertip touch. But he believes once young people sample the lures of science they will forget soft living and clock-watching.

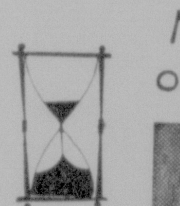

For the nation's sake, we must hope that discerning appeals of this sort will strike a responsive chord. The discovery and application of new scientific ideas by the thousands lies ahead of us if we are to keep this country abreast of its population growth and its crucial free world responsibilities.

Richard Harlow Burial Today

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP) — Dick Harlow was praised as a patriot, scholar, christian gentleman and football coach at his funeral Wednesday.

Harlow, 72, a member of the Helms Football Hall of Fame and coach for 36 years at Western Maryland College, Penn State, Colgate and Harvard, died Monday of a heart attack.

Harlow resided at LaAnna for 50 years and spoke frequently at banquets in the locality.

Nearly 300 persons, including more than two dozen of his former players, attended the services in the flower-banked Baker Memorial Chapel of Western Maryland College. He will be buried Thursday at Pine Grove Cemetery at South Sterling, Pa.

The Rev. William Wallace Wood, retired minister from Gettysburg, Pa., and former player for Harlow at Penn State, was among those who officiated.

Dr. Lowell S. Ensor, president of Western Maryland, and the Rev. Robert H. Hiller of the Westminster Methodist Church, to which Harlow belonged, also eulogized him.

"He was almost like a father to his players," Mr. Ensor said. "He coached not just to win, but as a basic equality of character. Perfection was his goal, not just in football, but in life."

Harlow retired in 1947 from Harvard. He was named coach of the year in 1936 and Ivy League coach of the year in 1937.

His widow, Nalvette, and a daughter, Mrs. George S. Bare, wife of an Army colonel stationed at Ft. Knox, Ky., are among the survivors.

Milk Discounts Are Discussed

PITTSBURGH (AP) — State Atty. Gen. David Stahl suggested yesterday that customers receive a 10 or 15-cent discount for buying a gallon of milk rather than the present four cents.

Stahl told a State Milk Control Commission hearing: "If the commission feels that it could provide a 10-cent or 15-cent discount on the gallon jug, we wouldn't be in here arguing and making some of the arguments we are."

Stahl later told newsmen that "the commission should have followed the lead of other markets and made the discount on gallon jug sales meaningful, a substantial discount of 10 or 15 cents."

Commissioners Airs Plans To Place Guests In Carbon

MONROE County and Carbon officials discussed plans yesterday in the Carbon County Home to place Monroe guests in the Carbon County Home.

Attending from Monroe County were Commissioners John R. Le-soine and Stanley Rader, Dr. John Martucci, county physician; and Charles Haney, superintendent, Monroe County Home.

The conference was arranged after long deliberation by the Monroe County commissioners.

The purpose of yesterday's session was to establish the number of guests, their condition and cost to have them kept in the Carbon County Home.

Monroe's commissioners went over costs of making additions and improvements to the county home in Kellersville. Their study revealed that the cost for the work would be between $400,000 and $500,000.

This cost would place a heavy tax burden on the taxpayers of Monroe, they evaluated. They said that it was very possible the final costs of the building program might go higher.

The commissioners noted some state departments that would have to approve the work. They are Labor and Industry, which has very strict rules for buildings of this nature; and the state architects.

The trip to the Carbon County Home yesterday showed the distance to be 46 miles from Stroud-burg with good highways the entire distance.

Carbon's home is situated on a tract of land containing more than 1200 acres. It is about two miles from the Borough of Weatherly.

The home includes male and female dormitories, with four floors in each building. Both dorms are fully staffed with registered nurses and male attendants 24 hours a day.

Personnel

The registered nurse staff consists of six nurses. The male attendants number 15, and there are 25 practical nurses. In addition, Grey Ladies from Hazleton area come to the hospital daily to conduct games for the guests. They also aid the staff in feeding and exercising the guests.

The plan discussed was to send the overload of guests from Monroe County Home to the Carbon County Home. Commissioners agreed to this. The cost to Monroe County for the service would be $105 per month, which is the same cost for a patient in Monroe County Home.

The Monroe County Commissioners said they would notify the Carbon officials within two weeks and present them with the names of the guests to be sent, the nature of their sickness, and the health condition of the guest.

Light Snow Turns Heavy Over Night

A LIGHT snowfall that powdered the Poconos yesterday became a full-fledged snowstorm last night as from 4 to 5 inches covered the area.

The Avoca Weather Bureau at Wilkes-Barre said the snowfall would turn to flurries today.

The Pocono area storm resulted from a power-packed snowstorm that again walloped Midwestern states and moved eastward.

Following in the wake of a major weekend storm the new onslaught closed schools, blocked many secondary roads, that had just been reopened and disrupted some air travel in the Midwest states.

Heavy snow warnings went up in the area from east central Iowa through northern Wisconsin, northern Illinois, central Michigan, Indiana, northern Ohio, New York State and sections of Pennsylvania.

The snowstorm struck Pennsylvania Wednesday laying down its heaviest fall in west central sections. However, as it moved, the east and other sections of Pennsylvania found the fall had increased as the night progressed.

The fall in mountain sections was predicted to be as high as eight inches.

The storm spread quickly across the Keystone state and made driving hazardous in many areas.

Youngsters Learn About Post Office

DURING A unit study on the postoffice in the first grades at the Pocono Elementary Center, the children constructed a real postoffice on one of the hall bulletin boards, complete with mail boxes, stamp and money order windows, and letter slats.

To accompany this, a large outside mailbox was constructed into which the children "mailed" their "letters."

Since Valentine's Day offered an excellent opportunity for the Postoffice unit, the letters were, naturally, valentines. On Valentine Day, the mail box will be opened and mailmen selected. The delivery to the "homes" will be made by chosen "mail-carriers."

The unit study correlated reading, arithmetic, art, handwriting and social living.

The children who participated in the work are all students from the Jackson-Pocono area and were guided in their study by Mrs. Charmaine McLeod and Mrs. Jeanne May, first grade teachers.

Depot Men Checked Out On Survival

SOME 18 members of the U. S. Army Signal Corps depot, Tobyhanna, rescue squad attended the Bangor Survival School conducted by the Civil Air Patrol at Hawk Mountain over the past weekend.

Almost all comparative newcomers to the field of rescue operations, the squad members received training in the basics of winter survival. Instruction covered such subjects as search patterns and necessary equipment for winter rescue work, communications, winter first aid and selection of campsites, to mention just a few.

During their three-day stay at Hawk Mountain, the men camped out in the cold, constructing their own shelters and preparing their own food, just as they would if involved in a real search. On the last day of instruction, they participated in a problem which tested the knowledge they had acquired during the preceding days of schooling.

Sgt. Albert Cole Jr., non-commissioned officer in charge of the team and a veteran of rescue work, served as an instructor. A large majority of his men came from the 210th Signal Company, with smaller groups representing the 128th and 840th signal companies.

E-Burg Man Attends Church Meet

CARROLL VENEY, of 10 South Kistler St., East Stroudsburg, was among 1800 men at the three-day Eastern Area meeting of the National Council of United Presbyterian Men at New York City recently.

The men heard addresses by the moderator of the 173rd General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in the USA and other prominent churchmen, took part in group discussions, and participated in joint worship.

The laymen and clergymen who spoke to the group included Paul D. McKelvey, moderator of the General Assembly, Los Angeles, Calif.; Dr. Charles H. Malik, former president of the United Nations General Assembly, now of Washington, D. C.; Rev. Louis H. Evans, minister-at-large of the Presbyterian Board of National Missions; Rev. Bryant M. Kirkland, pastor-elect of New York's Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church; and Clarence McGuire, former president of the National Council of United Presbyterian Men, Kansas City, Mo.

The New York assembly was the first of five area meetings slated during February and March. Theme of this year's conference is "Show Me Your Faith." The Eastern Area includes the New England states, eastern Pennsylvania, New York, Maryland, Delaware and the District of Columbia.

Motorist Killed In Crash

BEDFORD, Pa. (AP) — Merle W. Riehl, 37, of Everett Rd., Bedford County, was fatally injured Wednesday in the collision of his car and a truck during a snowstorm.

State police said the truck skidded while attempting to pass another truck and collided with Riehl's auto. The truck driver, Fred Kagarise, 20, of New Enterprise, was not hurt.

The crash occurred near the intersection of Routes 2 and 88 in Bedford County. Riehl died in Nason Hospital, Roaring Spring.

New Lighting Standards For Trucks Starts Oct. 31

HARRISBURG (AP) — A series of new lighting standards for trucks goes into effect Oct. 31, marking another big step in Pennsylvania's all-out campaign for safety on state roads and highways.

The new requirements—all products of the 1961 legislature—emphasized new and improved warning light techniques to be used on trucks, buses, and commercial vehicles registered with the Commonwealth.

The regulations include mandatory hazard warning switches, stop lamps, electric clearance lamps, reflectors, flares, front and rear identification lens, and improved turn signals.

The state had planned to make these new requirements mandatory April 30, but decided to extend the deadline to Oct. 31 after truck owners requested more time to have the equipment installed.

Most controversial of the new regulations is the hazard warning switch—a device aimed at eliminating or reducing rear end collisions.

Under this standard, trucks must be equipped with an electrical switch, allowing truckers to turn on all four turn signals simultaneously as a warning whenever their vehicles become disabled along the road.

A red "tell-tale" indicator also will be required on the truck's dashboard or in the switch itself.

to tell the trucker whether the flashing warning signals are operating.

Another in the new regulations will be the requirement that all trucks be equipped with at least three red flags and three flares, red electric lanterns, or portable red emergency reflectors.

This equipment is to be used by the trucker to warn approaching motorists of danger in the event this vehicle becomes disabled.

Other requirements will include:

Red reflectors on the rear of all trucks.

Electric clearance lamps on the front and rear of all trucks over 80 inches in width.

Electrically operated turn signals. (This applies to passenger cars, also).

Rear lamps and illumination of rear registration plates.

Electric identification lamps to help approaching motorists get an idea of how wide the truck, house trailer, or bus may be.

After Oct. 31, these requirements will become part of the state's inspection program for trucks. All are amendments to the state's Motor Vehicle Code.

Violation of any one of these regulations carries with it a possible $10 fine or five days in jail.

Meanwhile, another trucking regulation goes into effect four months ahead of Oct. 31, calling for the mounting of names and addresses of owners on the outside of trucks. Although not backed by the Lawrence administration, this regulation also was approved by the 1961 legislature. It becomes effective June 30.

Under this rule, the names and addresses of truck owners or operators must be marked in letters not less than three inches in height somewhere on the outside of their trucks.

Violation of this regulation also carries a possible $10 fine or jail sentence.

Green Thumb Growing Orchids

By George Abraham
ORCHID INDOORS: Is it possible to grow orchids indoors without resorting to a lot of hocus-pocus? Yes, it is. Many readers of this department have orchids in full bloom right now. One reader has an orchid 20 years old (Cattleya) pronounced "cattle-lay-yuh," with three large blossoms on now.

This is the same lavender orchid you see around Christmas, listed in catalogs as C. trianaei. She also grows Cypripedium (the moccasin-flower or lady's slipper of our woods), one Phalaenopsis (pronounced "fall-in-op-sis") or Moth orchid, and a Cymbidium, the smaller-florist type which lasts anywhere from 6 weeks to 3 months.

How about culture? Our amateur orchidist writes: "In winter they are in a southern second floor bedroom window. I keep them on a wire frame over a large tray of pebbles in water."

We syringe them once a week and spray them in a tub once monthly. I keep the steam heat radiator closed and the room is quite cold. They seem to be happiest where there is no artificial light. They are given an occasional liquid feeding.

In spring the plants are put under a maple tree, tied to a limb and covered with chicken wire to keep the squirrels from eating them. They like protection from hot summer sun. My orchids get more neglect than care. In summer I water them occasionally in dry spells. Plants are grown in cedar chips."

DISEASE IN ZINNIAS: Is it hopeless to try to grow zinnias?

Question Box

QUESTION OF THE WEEK: F. R. of Stroudsburg: "Last year our cucumbers were bitter and we couldn't eat them. Someone said they'd be o.k. for pickles so we did them up and still they taste bitter. What does our soil need to prevent bitterness?"

Bitterness has nothing to do with soil conditions. A certain amount of bitterness can be expected in most cucumbers, but if it's intolerable blame it on weather.

A sudden drop in temperature following a warm spell causes cucumbers to develop bitterness. Some of this bitterness is lost in pickling, although some of it is retained. There is no way to prevent bitterness. All varieties are susceptible to it. If you could control weather you could control bitterness.

What is the best cucumber for the home gardener? The leading slicing cucumber is Market, slim, smooth and tapered with a beautiful dark green color. One bad feature about Market is that the cucumber is not disease-resistant and for that reason gardeners are turning to new hybrids.

Challenger is an excellent slicer with compact vines and early fruit. A slicing type to keep your eye on is Tablegreen, having higher mosaic-resistance than any.

One criticism: It has a tendency to "Jumbo", that is, become too large in diameter too quickly after maturity is reached. Ohio Mr. 17 is a highly popular mosaic-resistant cucumber. There are many other hybrids and non-hybrids which you can try.

S.E. of Del. Water Gap: "I have a Chinese Evergreen that never blossoms. What care does it need?"

Chinese Evergreen (Aglaonema) sometimes produces a small calla-like bloom when pot-bound. Otherwise it seldom flowers. One of the hardest of all, it can be grown nicely in water kept fresh, without soil. Ideal for rooms with shade, and where temperature does not go below 50 degs. When plants get tall, you can shorten it by air-layering.

Start new plants by tip and stem cuttings. Spray with malathion to keep down aphids and red spider. Another plant I'm asked about is Syngonium (also called Nephthytis), having arrow or heart-shaped leaves in the juvenile stage, and the "adult" or mature stage. It too needs shade, warmth.

Green gold is a very yellow-green variety which has caught on with the public. Watering the foliage in soap and water does a lot to keep these and other foliage plant pests out.

F.G. of Scotrun: "I'm fond of Angel's Trumpet and often wish I'd grow it in the garden. How do you grow it?"

Angel's Trumpet (Datura meteloides) large, trumpet-shaped flowers of luminous white. Plants reach 2 1/2 to 3' tall, with 2' spread, making it a nice background or border plant. Creamy white trumpets 8" long, useful in floral arrangements.

Start seed indoors and transplant out when warm weather shows up. No insects or diseases to both this item.

D. F. of Stroudsburg: Last spring I put some cocoa bean shells on my garden and around pine trees. Last fall a lot of white mushrooms popped up all over the area. Are these edible and will they harm plants growing near them?"

Chances are they aren't edible! Some may be edible and some may not, so I wouldn't chance it. As far as harming nearby plants, no they won't. If they pop up again in spring (there's a good chance they will), hand pull and burn them.

buds, too much nitrogen in the soil, and exceedingly dry summer weather. Keep dogwoods well watered in summer.

The best time to move or prune dogwoods is in early spring before growth starts. Any other time is tricky business, unless they are moved with a large ball of roots.

AMERICA'S DEPENDABLE FOOD MERCHANDISE SINCE 1859

Just Between Us — —

—By Bobby Westbrook

"Every American seems to have grown a foot taller since yesterday" is the way State Trooper Joe Murphy put it—and that about summed up the local reaction of people who had prayed and sweated out the orbital flight.

But their new stature wasn't just a matter of pride that an American had duplicated a Russian feat and in full view of the whole world. It was more—a pride in the human race which can still produce men, not only willing to take on a superhuman task but with the self-discipline to carry it through.

And not just for money! Sometimes it seems as if the world were made up of sniveling, sneaking, selfish punks, out only for what they can get for themselves. It comes as a fresh wind through the world to know that we can still grow them big and brave.

Not just Glenn but all the others like him, in whatever field they are putting their strength against the impossible. Of course right now, nobody seems quite like Glenn—but you know what I mean.

Nobody seems quite like Marcella Clapp, either, who is hand-restoring the Old Stone House and who was host to the AAUW board the other night to tell them about her dreams of making it a 19th Century Museum.

She has already collected three paintings she considers of museum stature. But even more the board members could appreciate the 19th century antiques she is furnishing it with, and the amount of work it takes to get down to the original boards; the amount of imagination and research to restore an original door, banished to the cellar, to its proper place at the front entrance.

The Baby's Named!

THE DAILY RECORD congratulates the parents and introduces to its readers the following new babies:

Judith Lynn Strunk

Their third daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Earl Strunk on Feb. 16 at the General Hospital. She weighed 8 pounds 3 1/2 ounces and has been named Judith Lynn. Her sisters are Lillian, 9; and Christina, 5.

Mrs. Strunk is the former Ethel Mae Palmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Richard Palmer of 247 Willow St., East Stroudsburg. Paternal grandfather is Howard Strunk of East Stroudsburg, RD 2.

Kathy Julia Van Why

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Russell Van Why, of Bushkill on Feb. 17 at the General Hospital. She weighed 6 pounds 10 1/2 ounces and has been named Kathy Julia. She has two brothers, Russell Jr., 11; and William, 6.

Her mother is the former Catherine Fish, daughter of the late Morris and Lilly Fish. Paternal grandmother is Mrs. Louise Snyder, of Dingmans Ferry.

Kurt Michael Thaller

Their third son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thaller of 55 North Courtland St., East Stroudsburg on Feb. 14 at the General Hospital. He weighed 6 pounds 1 ounce and has been named Kurt Michael.

His brothers are Mark Christian, 2 1/2; and Glenn Anthony, 1 1/2.

Miss Dorothy Borden

Miss Borden Engaged To T. Nelson

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Borden of Saylorburg announce the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy, to Thomas Nelson, son of Albert Nelson of Stroudsburg RD 2 and the late Clara Nelson.

Miss Borden is a senior at Stroud Union High School. Mr. Nelson is serving in the U.S. Navy, stationed at Jacksonville, Fla.

But even so—inspired by our glimpse of the future, comforted by the solidity of the good things of the past—our ordinary mortals found ourselves slumping yesterday, not only physically but mentally and emotionally, too, glad enough to have nothing more earth-shaking to worry about than a new slip cover or a hand of bridge. Maybe that's our trouble.

Herbs, Honey Spark Flavor In Greek Cuisine

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Some of the most fascinating cooking goes on in families of Greek origin.

One of the best known of these dishes—probably because it's often found in restaurants throughout the country—is Greek Salad. Its chief ingredients are tomatoes, onions or scallions, green peppers, anchovies and black olives; sometimes cucumbers and salad greens are also added. The dressing consists of olive oil, lemon juice or wine vinegar, salt and pepper, that's all.

Knowing cooks say that the trick in making the salad is to cut up the ingredients instead of slicing them. When we make this salad we are careful to divest the tomatoes of their seeds and juice—but this may not be traditional! We also hasten to say that there are a number of versions of Greek Salad, so don't be surprised if you see varying recipes for it in cook books.

Mint is used in interesting ways in Greek cuisine. For example, it may flavor meat balls, snap beans or artichokes. Fresh mint is preferred, but we've seen dried mint substituted when the fresh isn't available.

Cinnamon is another favorite flavor. It's sometimes added to a chicken stewed in a tomato gravy. Currants and nuts used alone or in combination are favored by Greek cooks. Together the dried fruit and nuts may go into a rice stuffing for baked tomatoes or a pastry.

The following recipe is a strictly American version of the famous Greek pastry called Baklava. By the way, we like this dessert reheated in the oven because it becomes slightly crusty in the process.

ERSATZ BAKLAVA

2 cups flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup light brown sugar
1/2 cup butter
2 eggs (separated)
1 cup chopped filberts
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 cup honey
2 tablespoons hot water

Stir together the flour, salt and 1/4 cup of the brown sugar; cut in the butter until combined. Add the egg yolks; cut in with a pastry blender to make a smooth but pebbly mixture. Add unbeaten egg whites; stir until a dough forms. Divide dough into sixths. Roll out one portion at a time between two sheets of waxed paper to make a thin layer to fit the bottom of a baking pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches); chill; peel off waxed paper. Fit one layer of rolled dough into baking pan. Mix filberts, remaining 1/4 cup brown sugar, and nutmeg; sprinkle a few tablespoons of this filling over the dough. Roll out and fit second layer of dough over filling; sprinkle with nut mixture; continue until all the pastry and filling are used, having top layer the nut mixture. Mix honey with hot water; pour a few tablespoons of mixture over top; bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 35 to 40 minutes. Serve warm with remaining honey mixture.

Glenn Stars At Pocono Luncheon

Brotherhood Week and the orbital flight of Friendship 7 were two of the high points of the luncheon meeting of the Pocono Mountain Council of Republican Women held at High Point Inn, Mount Pocono on Tuesday.

Mrs. Gray Carpenter, vice president, opened the luncheon with 59 women attending. Mrs. J. Dear Abby

Put Up The Gates!

Dear Abby: What do you do when dinner guests leap up from the table as soon as the last bite is swallowed, start carrying dishes to the kitchen and even wash them? I know they are trying to be helpful, but they irritate me. I live alone and would prefer to wash the dishes at my leisure when my guests had departed, after the strain of having prepared a company dinner. I want to turn my back on the dishes, enjoy my guests and relax. When my guests INSIST on "helping" me, it means three or four women in my tiny kitchenette "working" while I stand and direct the operation. It's a mess. What's the answer?

IRRITATED

Dear Irritated: When guests offer to do your dishes, talk louder than they. Say, "THANK YOU VERY MUCH BUT THE KITCHEN IS 'OFF LIMITS'." And say it as if you really mean it.

Dear Abby: Can a couple get married by proxy? With him overseas and me in the States?

UNDESIGNED

Dear Undesigned: "Proxy" marriages have been performed, but only under unusual circumstances. Talk to your clergyman.

Dear Abby: Just lately, four teen-agers beside myself saw a hit-and-run accident. We chased the car and got the license number. We went back to the scene of the accident and gave it to the policeman who had just arrived. They caught the man and gave all the credit to the police. We aren't looking for any medals, Abby, but this is just another example of how the teen-agers are smeared bad. But when they do something good, somebody else gets the credit.

TYPICAL TEEN-AGERS

Confidential to "Can't Understand": It isn't "fair" for one child to wind up with the entire responsibility of caring for an elderly parent, but that's the way it usually works out.

How is the world treating you? Unload your problems on Abby, care of this paper.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Thursday, Feb. 22, 1962

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — On this day, the father of the North American, let us recall his courage, inspired will and the way he was ready to fight for home and that which is dear to us, to defend it.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — Aim at perfection and settle for something in its neighborhood when you should. We cannot be perfect, but we must try for the best. Never wait for opportunity, so meet it.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — Make your own "breaks." Day longed for word and deed to those who honestly make your country free for all. Let's keep things in order. Shine overactivity, anxiety, personal issues advance.

June 22 to July 22 (Cancer) — Don't expect a miracle. Step up and add your share. Prayer, children, music, boost your morale, and you can boost theirs. Usual advantages to be ferreted out, rediscovered.

July 23 to August 22 (Leo) — Invent, prepare, decorate, design, organize, go forward every honest way you know. Your Sun adds "With due restraint." Relaxation is in order where earned, but not wasting time.

August 23 to September 22 (Virgo) — Offered: a happy day! Mercury is in a happy mood. Live with friends, loved ones. Live for today, tomorrow, let the past rest in peace. This will give your mind greater peace, too.

September 23 to October 22 (Libra) — Dangle of the hand, hand, and brainwork. You are agile, discerning, clever. Reach out, think the planet there for the testing. Retain your sense of humor throughout.

October 23 to November 22 (Scorpio) — To attempt too much is a waste of time, as is unnecessary emotion. Gear efforts to those areas, social or business, where they will return value for energies expended.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius) — Avarice is a temptation to relax vigilance. You can lose ground, if not attentive, circumspect. Lend your whole mind and hand to first-rank projects.

December 23 to January 22 (Capricorn) — Saturn radiates auspiciously; good influences. Remember the incentive of your Sign and put one foot front in outside gains and personality. Seek, develop advantages.

January 23 to February 19 (Aquarius) — Certain benefits partially hidden. When your keen, analytical senses detect an inkling of fresh success, DIG! Become the owner of prize-package acquisitions.

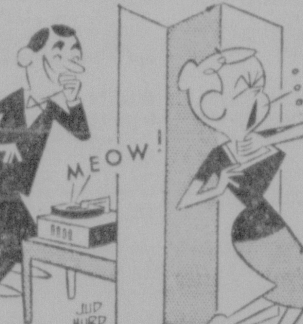

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces) — Neptune in step with Saturn to show a clear, honest, true possible life if you handle self and affairs properly. Waste not and you will want not. This applies in more ways than one.

YOU BORN TODAY: Versatile, present usually in right manner. Do not let materialism overshadow. Whatever your choice of life's work, your abilities are strong and with normal, systematic development you should achieve admirably. Sometimes dismayed by temporary setbacks. Just remember: no one is ever going to have "clear sailing" throughout those with "everything" have problems, often harder to surmount than appears on surface. In time and from outside pressures, freedom, desire, or honest endeavor and depending upon God are important factors. You can be practical, detailed, economical, thrifty. This indicates a peaceful, untroubled life. Birthdate of 4-10-1908, Washington, D.C. Fredrick Chopin, Polish composer. James Russell Lowell, American author, diplomat.

HEALTH CAPSULES

by Michael A. Petti, M.D.

CAN SOMEONE WITH ASTHMA DEVELOP IT EVEN WHEN HE'S NOT EXPOSED TO WHAT EVER HE'S ALLERGIC TO?

SOMETIMES, SOME PEOPLE ALLERGIC TO CATS WOULD DEVELOP ASTHMA IF THEY WERE FALSELY MADE TO BELIEVE A CAT WAS PRESENT.

Health Capsules gives helpful information. It is not intended to be a diagnostic nature.

THE Junior varsity basketball team of Stroud Union has one Water Gap boy on it. George (Chipper) Kulp is the local boy participating. Chip comes naturally by love of the game. His mother, Mrs. Henry Kulp, was captain of the team in her high school days and also played on an industrial team.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Kitchen had a party of thirteen, in three cars, for the trip last week up into New York State for the wedding of their son Donald Kitchen. In the group were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kitchen of Stroudsburg, Mr. and Mrs. John Kitchen and son Robert Kitchen of Allentown and Miss Nancy Boyer a trainee at St. Luke's Hospital in Bethlehem, Mr. and Mrs. Armand Reduzzi of Pen Argil, the Willard Kitchens and daughter Linda Kitchen and their son Dale Newhart of this borough, and Miss Carol Stettler of Palmyerton.

Mr. Harold B. Crossdale recently received a letter from Robert Brueckner, D.D. of Johannesburg, South Africa, a former resident—until 1912—of Water Gap. Dr. Brueckner, whose wife died in the fall, is studying advanced Greek and, although eighty years of age, is teaching Greek. His supervision of mission day schools for a radius of one hundred fifty miles, which he carried on after his retirement from active mission work a few years ago, has been ended by the government due to racial troubles and the policy of not permitting the natives to study any higher than the third grade. Dr. Brueckner's four daughters, who are all married, have a record of brilliant scholastic attainment that equals his own. He has expressed a frequent longing to "whip the Broodhead's Creek at Ananims" for trout although he has trout fishing in the mountains where he is.

February weather and virus onslaughts have not been conducive to wedding anniversary celebrations. Among the ones very quietly observed this month were the 32nd for the George Brockmans and the 52nd for the Harvey Hays, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Shellenberger will have their fifty-fourth anniversary the last day of this month.

Warriors Drop 81-64 Loop Court Scramble To Bears

Scarcity Of Free Throws Hurts ESSC

KUTZTOWN—East Stroudsburg State College had trouble getting trips to the foul line last night, and dropped a Pennsylvania State College Conference decision to Kutztown, 81-64.

The Warriors, who fell below the 500 mark with an 8-9 record, had only 11 foul line chances, making good on eight.

Kutztown, having one of its best court seasons in recent years, had 24 foul attempts, converting 21. East Stroudsburg was tagged with 21 personal fouls, while Kutztown drew only 10. The Warriors never reached the one-and-one bonus foul shot situation, the first time in several years that this has happened.

The loss gives East Stroudsburg a 4-7 conference mark, with three league games remaining.

Murphy Has 23
John Murphy led the Warriors in scoring and tied with Ron Lauchnor for game honors, with 23 points.

Murphy had 11 field goals and one foul shot. Will Pfeiffer was next in line for the Warriors, hitting for 14. Pfeiffer had five field goals and four fouls. He was the only Warrior with more than one foul line point.

Russ Hopewell was held to only seven points, his worst night of the year and one of his poorest showings in his four-year East Stroudsburg career.

Hopewell now needs 51 points to break the four-year school scoring mark.

Scott Weaver also had seven points, before fouling out with nine minutes left. Weaver picked up his fourth personal in the first half.

Close At First
It was fairly close in the first half, with Kutztown holding a 34-29 spread at the end of the first 20 minutes.

The Warriors pulled to within three points, 34-31, shortly after the second half started, but never got closer.

Lauchnor did most of his damage in the second half, when he scored 17 of his points.

Kutztown won the junior varsity game 59-48.

ES Matters Crush New York Squad

OSWEGO, N. Y. — East Stroudsburg State College posted its third win in eight wrestling matches Wednesday, 26-8, over Oswego State Teachers College.

The Warriors actually lost only one bout, as 177-pounder Joe Mucka did not wrestle because of a back injury and Oswego won that weight class by forfeit. Mucka could have wrestled if necessary but by the time his class rolled around, the Warriors had already won the match.

East Stroudsburg won the first five bouts and topped off the performance when heavy-weight Jeff Forsythe pinned Carl Cotten in 5:53 of their bout with a half nelson and bar arm.

Tom Gleason got the Warriors to a 3-0 lead, when he defeated Jerry Lamonia 10-4 in the 123-pound class.

Kayal Continues
George Kayal made it 6-0 for East Stroudsburg, when he blanked Dick Shaw 10-0 at 130 pounds.

Gerald Senick scored the first Warrior pin and it came against Oswego's top performer, Gary Williamson. Williamson was unbeaten in five matches before last night but Senick pinned the New York wrestler in 6:27 with a half nelson and body press.

Bob Walters made it two pins in a row for East Stroudsburg. He dumped Paul Viggiano at 2:08.

ESSC's Dick Bell won by forfeit at 157 pounds and Ken Graham was the only Warrior to drop his bout.

Conerly Quits Giant Football

NEW YORK (AP) — Charlie Conerly, 40, retired Wednesday as quarterback for the New York Giants of the National Football League but announced he would remain with the club as a talent scout.

Conerly had been with the Giants for 14 seasons and holds the NFL record for having completed the most passes in one game—36 against Pittsburgh on Dec. 5, 1948.

The graying former Mississippi University star spent most of last season on the bench.

He helped the Giants to four NFL divisional titles.

"Playing gets tougher and tougher from a mental view point each year," said the handsome, graying Conerly, "although the fact that we now must play 14 instead of 12 games helped me make my decision."

The retirement left the Giants with Y. A. Tittle, acquired a year ago in a trade with San Francisco, and Lee Grosscup as candidates for the job of directing the Giants on the field in the coming campaign.

Cap Curtis Quits SU Athletic Post

STROUD UNION High School gained a track coach and part time faculty manager of athletics last night but lost an honorary athletic director.

The Stroud Union School board "accepted with regrets," the resignation of T. Manning (Cap) Curtis as honorary athletic director.

Curtis had held the post since 1950. He was given the job at a testimonial dinner when he retired as the school's basketball coach.

In his letter of resignation, Curtis said, "... at the present time there appears to exist in the minds of several individuals that the athletic program is being run by the honorary director."

Dr. John P. Lim, board secretary, who proposed that the board praise Curtis for his work, said, "Cap has done a multitude of services for the school. It is unfortunate that this misunderstanding has arisen."

Lim Offers Praise
Dr. John P. Lim, board secretary, who proposed that the board praise Curtis for his work, said, "Cap has done a multitude of services for the school. It is unfortunate that this misunderstanding has arisen."

Curtis came to Stroud Union, then Stroudsburg High, in 1923. In his coaching years, Curtis coached teams won two Lehigh Valley basketball titles and one football championship.

Later in the meeting, which was taken up mainly with athletics, Lim nominated Vernon Hontz to coach the school's new track team.

Hontz, who had failed to get the board's approval last month, was voted to the position without a negative vote this time.

Hantjis Named
Hontz is also the faculty manager but he will not hold that post during track season. The board accepted James Hantjis to fill Hontz' job in the Spring.

Hantjis is a teacher in the school's commercial department and serves as business manager of a local resort in the Summer.

In other athletic activity, the board voted to let the Babe Ruth Baseball League use its athletic fields on Sundays during the Summer.

The league plans to expand its operation to teams in the 16-18 year old player category.

The board also agreed to let the Stroudsburg "A's," formerly the Anamink team of the Pocono Mountain Baseball League, use the fields on Sunday.

The board felt that the two leagues could work out a schedule so both could alternate the use of the field.

No Night Games
The board, however, turned down the "A's" request to play night games at Gordon Giffels. It was explained that the lighting system at the field has to be overhauled and until that is done, the lights will not be used.

The Pocono Jacks, amateur basketball team were granted use of the high school gymnasium on several Saturday nights in March and April.

The board made it clear that the final approval of the use of playing facilities would depend on its insurance policy.

Board member John Baynor was asked to see if the school's insurance would cover outside groups.

It was the 15th victory in 20 games for the Cardinals, who now enter the District 11, Class B PIAA play-offs. The Cards meet Fountainhill, March 7 at Bethlehem's Liberty High School.

The District met in special session last night at Slatington to reset the Class B playoffs, because two new teams had been added to the field. However, the Cards game against the Hillers was not changed.

Second Straight
It was the second time in two days that the Cards have whipped the Royals, only last night's game was a much different story than the first game. In the opening game, Pocono won 56-54 in the final seconds.

But Wednesday, the Cards stormed to a 30-13 halftime lead and were never in danger after that.

Coach Harry Werkheiser cleared his bench in the final contest, using 12 players, with all but three scoring.

Share Honors
John Ryan and Ed Luck shared scoring honors for Pocono, each getting 14 points. Ryan had six field goals and two foul shots, while Luck made his total on five field goals and four fouls.

Norb Ryan, with 10 points, was the only other Cardinal to reach double figures.

Al Kristof was high for the Royals with 12 points, collected on four field goals and four fouls.

Pocono had a wide edge in field goals, 22-12

Spring Grid Drills Open Tomorrow For East Stroudsburg State Squad

THERE won't be any official games until September but the football season opens tomorrow at East Stroudsburg State College.

The Warriors open two weeks of Spring practice tomorrow with a meeting and Monday coach Jack Gregory will move his squad outdoors if weather permits.

This marks the third year that Stroudsburg has held formal Spring practice and Gregory expects some 65 players to take part.

The National Collegiate Athletic Assn. and the Pennsylvania State College Conference allow member schools 20 days of Spring practice but because many of the East Stroudsburg footballers also play a Spring sport, Gregory plans to use only 14 days.

Biggest Problem

The biggest problem facing Gregory and his assistant coach Charlie Reese, is finding replacements for six starting linemen. The only returning two-way starter in the line is Bruce Thomas, a tackle, who was picked on the conference's second team last year.

Gregory must find replacements for ends Moe Barber and Ed (Roadblock) Becker, tackle Russ Rogers, guards Art Schisler and Jack Casselbaum and center Warren Swartwood. Swartwood was the only missing lineman that didn't play both offense and defense.

There are several line performers that are almost certain of starting berths, including guard Horace Cole, an East Stroudsburg High product, who started on defense last year. Other guard candidates are Jeff Forsythe, Reds Patton and Ed Newman.

The tackle prospects are John Mitro, Bill Slezosky and Bob Lakey, former Bangor gridders. Center candidates include Joe Bahatka, Barry Yoder and Ray Slavinsky. Bahatka was a starting linebacker last year.

End Candidates

Battling for the end jobs will be Ronnie Sullivan, Ray Uhl, another East Stroudsburg grad and Jim McGreen, who was converted from tackle last year.

Until several weeks ago, the East Stroudsburg backfield was set but now Gregory must fill two spots.

Regular fullback Joe Heverlin is being switched to end, to add more blocking power. The position won't be new to Heverlin, who was a third team all-state end selection when he played high school ball for Gregory in Wilmington, Del.

Jan Beliveau and Jerry Wasilchak are in line for Heverlin's backfield job and Gregory may split the job into offensive and defensive portions, with Beliveau getting the offensive slot.

Mowery Gone

One of the biggest blows to the Warriors was the loss of halfback Henry Mowery, who dropped out of school at the semester break and is in Florida. Mowery had been a starter for almost two full seasons and was one of the top scorers in the conference last year. He was the Warriors' second leading ground gainer.

The two remaining backfield positions should be filled by halfback Toby Barkman and quarterback Bill Lewis.

Barkman was the leading scorer in the conference last year and was second in the state in point production. He was selected as an honorable mention Little All-American.

The Chester, N. J. sophomore was second in the nation in yards per carry last year, averaging 7.6 yards every time he carried the ball.

Lewis may possibly be the best quarterback in the conference this season. The Bristol junior developed into an outstanding player last year, although he had started for two previous campaigns.

Lewis also ranked in the top 10 in scoring in the conference last year and was among the top 20 point makers in the state.

Lewis will be backed up by Charlie Sier, the only other available quarterback. Two freshman quarterbacks, Nick Forsette and Harold Auker, flunked out of school at the semester break but hope to appear for admission to Summer school.

Transfer Back
Dennis Getman, a transfer from Southern Illinois College, who played for the junior varsity last year, will get the strongest shot at Mowery's post.

Getman was a fullback last season.

Dom Villani of Bethlehem and Gary Wilhide and several other halfbacks will also get a chance at the vacant spot.

Gregory looks at Spring practice in this light. "There are only a few positions that I would say are filled. There's going to be a great deal of fighting for the unfilled positions."

Athletic director John Eiler has completed an eight-game schedule for the Warriors and hopes to add a ninth game on Sept. 22, the lone open date.

The only newcomer to the schedule will be Montclair, which is returning after a two-year absence. Because of scheduling conflicts, Shippensburg was dropped from the schedule.

Gregory plans to hold the inter-squad game, which winds up Spring drills on Saturday, March 10.

New Orbital Flight Stamp Brisk Seller Locally

THE four-cent stamp commemorating the first orbital flight of the United States astronaut set a record of its own yesterday in the Stroudsburgs. Some 26,000 stamps were sold in a matter of hours.

Within hours after the stamps had reached the local post offices, new orders had to be submitted. "It was the fastest selling stamp we ever had," said Fred H. Rhodes, Stroudsburg postmaster, yesterday.

The stamps were placed on sale Wednesday morning and in a few hours the bulk of the lot had been purchased.

Rhodes said 16,000 stamps had been sold. The post office received 20,000.

The picture was the same at East Stroudsburg Post Office where Norman B. Gregory, postmaster, reported that his shipment of 10,000 went very fast. He immediately put in another order for 15,000 which will probably go on sale Friday or Saturday. The post offices will be closed today, Washington's Birthday.

The East Stroudsburg Post Office had only a few blocks—about 50 stamps to a block—remaining Wednesday night.

The stamp portrays a capsule in space with a portion of the earth in the lower left corner of the design. The wording "4c U.S. Man in Space" is superimposed over the globe and "Project Mercury" is across the bottom of the stamp.

The 4-cent Project Mercury commemorative stamp is 0.84 by 1.44 inches in dimension and is arranged horizontally. It is printed in blue and yellow on white paper and issued in panes of 50. An initial printing of 100 million has been authorized.

The hot-selling item was the same in Philadelphia where some 3,000 stamps were sold Wednesday. The trend was heavy throughout the United States, a post office official reported.

This stamp, commemorating the historic flight of U.S. Marine Lt. Col. John Glenn's flights around the earth, was released at 300 of the larger post offices throughout the country immediately upon the successful conclusion of the flight. However the official first day cancellation will be Cape Canaveral, Fla., a temporary station of the Cosco, Fla., post office, established for the one day.

Provision has been made for collectors to obtain envelopes bearing the new stamp with cancellation "Cape Canaveral, Florida," the date and hour of recovery of the capsule and the wording "First Day of Issue," from the Philatelic Sales Agency, Post Office Department, Washington 25, D.C. at 1 cent above the face value of the stamps involved. Thus the cost of a cover bearing a single stamp will be 5 cents.

Broadway To Invade Poconos

THE All-Army Showmobile, featuring the music of several Broadway shows including Camelot, New Faces and many others, will appear at the East Stroudsburg State College, Wednesday, March 14.

The show entitled "Impressions in Time" will introduce a new trend in musical review. The All-Army show is appearing here through the efforts of the Tobyhanna Signal Depot and the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce.

There will be no admission charge to the performances. One show will be held at 1 p.m. for the college faculty and student body and the second at 8 p.m. for the general public.

The program will last one hour and is packed with Broadway music. Introduced also, as a part of the All-Army show, will be several original songs and sketches.

The show has its own orchestra which is staffed by 23 enlisted men and women of the Army, many of which were professional entertainers prior to entering military service.

For the past three years, this group has won the Irving Berlin trophy as having the best All-Army show in the United States.
